BCE Takeover

TORONTO (CP)—A. J. Milner of Toronto, president of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada, said Monday the expropriation by the British Columbia government of the B.C. Electric Co. was unjust.

Mr. Milner, in a prepared cial government to enter into negotiation to establish a fair basis for expropriation of the giant utility.

"In the interests of justice, provision should be made for arbitration and independent appraisal of expropriated assets," Mr. Milner said.

He pointed to the earlier takeover of West Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation by the B.C. Power Commission, when the provincial Supreme Court ruled that the value of the utility was based on three main factors: Prospects for future earnings, original cost and replacement, cost of asand replacement, cost of assets, and recent prices paid for the power corporation board sets, and recent prices paid for similar utility properties.

"These considerations are fair and equitable. However, of interest with his position as the expropriation of the British Columbia Electric Company Limited provides no right of appeal. It seems inconceivable in a democratic society that any government can express the prices of the Crown-owned British Columbia Electric Company," a company statement said.

that any government can expropriate the properties of others on its own terms without provision for appeal."

DEBENTURES FOR STOCK
Under announced terms of the expropriation the government is exchanging interest-bearing debentures for publicly-held preferred B.C. Electric which was expropriated by the province last week. From a High Orbit

RUSSIA HAS SCORED ANspace age-a dramatic circuit of the globe by a man in a space vehicle, not once but 17 times—and thus earned the congratulations of the world. No ideological concepts can alter the achievement: this was a stupendous feat and Russia has led the world in performing it.

But that is not to say that the achievement of Soviet science will not be used by Soviet politicians. The space orbit came most oppor-tunely on the eve of Mr. Khrushchev's latest political statement. And the statement is, using all the prestige of Major Gherman Titov's flight, at times a provocative and belligerent one. At others it showed conciliatory attitude-at least a full recognition of what a world, war could mean and a desire to

This is not a new situation. On previous occasions Mr. Khrushchev has mixed offers to negotiate with denunciations of Western objectives and methods. And when the nego-tiators have met in conference with Soviet representatives, the talks have ended in stalemate and a realization that Russia was prepared to do nothing but restate its former stand and refuse to budge. The West has reiterated its willingness to meet with Russia and debate the Berlin problem. The atmosphere for such talks will not be improved by announcements that

The New Program

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

WE shall be living for a long time, We shall be living for a long time, for at least 20 years, with the new program of the Soviet Communist Party, the formal draft of which was published last week, so we can afford to take it quietly. It is the third document of its kind to be issued by the Russian com-

The first was in 1903, when Communism could still be summed up in Marx's phrase; "There is a spectre haunting Europe: the spectre of Communism." It called for the overthrow of the Tsarist autocracy, of the "bour-geois-landlord system" and the estab-lishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

The second followed in 1919 when the second collowed in 1919, when the first program had been fulfilled. It called for the building of a socialist society in the Soviet Union. This also, as Moscow sees it, has now been done. The third, which will be debated during the coming months and promulgated in its final form at the 22nd Party Congress in October, purports to be a blue-print for the building of Communism in the Soviet Union and the further ad-vance of the Socialist revolution throughout the world. .

The submergence of the CCF, the abandonment of socialist philosophy and the selection of Tommy Douglas as NDP leader were three of the basic results of this convention, but there was a fourth: the projection of the image of a new national political party.

National television coverage made this possible. The decorations and platform are possible. The decorations and platform arrangements were designed for TV. The convention's work schedule was even tailored to TV time, as when the chairman side-tracked a discussion of farm policy because TV time approached, and substituted debate on main

All parties vie for Quebec votes, but the NDP has nothing to learn from the others. Indeed, the phonetically rendered French that Douglas and Hazen Argue read was a considerable improvement over the Diefen-baker pronunciation that does violence to French-Canadian ears.

But the eagerness of the NDP to win acceptance in Quebec (only 20 years ago the church in Quebec was "against" CCF socialsm) carried it further than any other party has gone. The delegates voted to substitute the word "federal" in "national" in the party program to soften Quebec. In French, "na-word "national" even in the English text of word "national" even in the English text of its program, the NDP can be said to have ap-proved a divisive theory of Confederation that two nations united in 1867, and two na-tions exist within the federal framework of Canada today.

A fostering of this idea by parties eager for Quebec votes would be counter to the ef-forts of all enlightened politicians to create a national feeling that would subordinate sectional interests and loyalties in favor of a real, all inclusive Canadian nationalism.

But sharp criticiam came from Ecuador, one of the 2n ainison represented at the second plenary session of the inter-American economic conference which opened here saturday.

Dillon said the United States is prepared to enter into new international agreements for the marketing of tin and coffee—commodities essential to the economic well-being of several Latin American east to South American nations.

Delegates generally described the speech as "stimus and to 50 years to assist the sconomies of South American nations.

They welcomed the $20,000. They proposals are part of 00,000 figure given by Dillon as the target for investment in Latin America during the 10 year development plan.

VANCOUVER - Some day John Dickerson Parker will contact hoof and mouth disease or old lady's knee or halitosis and the B.C. Lions will cry "Hallelujah" until the cows come home.

They will not do this out of sheer meanness. They do not dislike J, Parker personally or socially.

But every time they meet him and his Edmonton Eskimo friends on the football field, Mr. Parker does them no good. He has been disputing with the Lions for seven years. In that time Edmonton won 25 of 28 games against B.C.

Monday night Edmonton won its 26th game from B.C., 29-19. Mr. Parker was a little hit of everything for Edmonton. He passed (though he is not a classic thrower and looks much like a man pushing his mother-in-law off the pier); he ran (here, too, he resembles something out of a puppet show); and, he inspired.

Parker did not direct the Edmontons in the highly-publicized "slingshot" formation, so called by Coach Eagle Keys "because Parker's legs are so scrawny they look like the two sticks on the Y of a slingshot."

Dye Treatment Aids Esks' Cause

The Edmontons didn't use this system because they didn't have to. All they do is pass and run and use Parker's

They showed up at Empire Stadium with only two new ces in the starting lineup. One was Robert Walden, a half-ick. The other was Pat Dye, a lineman.

Mr. Walden cannot do much except run like the wind, catch Parker's passes and kick the football until it cries in pain. Mr. Dye joined with his brother Nat. They engaged in the business of cleaning, pressing and Dyeing opposing players, particularly B.C. Lions. Considering their youth and inexperience, it is safe to say they have promising

In addition the Eskimos have such ancients as Johnny Bright who can run as strong as nearly any two people, Jim Shipka, Mike Lashuk and others.

Their line has been reupholstered by the return of Art Walker, a tackle of some 230 pounds. He is not necessarily a vicious player but he is the type to be avoided if you are interested in pension plans and things like that.

With all of these they were and are a better, more polished team than the Lions. The Esks were pushed now and then—they never really looked as if they were coasting—but their cohesion was the factor that brought them home

The Lions lacked "togetherness" occasionally. also showed a disturbing tendency to tackle with their imaginations instead of with their arms. Two or three times they would clutch at a passing Edmontonian instead of wrapping their fingers around his gullet until he turned

O'Bradovich Was a Busy Young Man

Mr. David Skrien, the B.C. backfield coach, was quite Mr. David Skrien, the B.C. backfield coach, was quite disturbed by the lack of concerted tackling of his men. "I plan to do something about," he said later. This conjured up visions of Mr. Skrien tackling a B.C. Lion until the latter was squeezed out of his shoelaces while Mr. Skrien asks: "Am I getting through to you on this tackling business?"

Three players not likely to be censored for their defensive deficiences are Ed O'Bradovich, Ed Sullivan and Joe Wendryhoski. If O'Bradovich is getting paid on a per tackle basis he'll be able to buy out the Joseph Kennedys in no time.

It is worthy of note that Mr. Parker did not perservere with plays around Mr. O'Bradovich's end. Mr. Parker came to this decision after he had been creamed by Mr. O'Bradoch. As fley stood up, they snarled at each other br conds later Mr. Parker again faded back to pass. A Mr. O'Bradovich loomed out of the night, artfully applied a full press on Parker and then, playfully, helped him up.

They shook hands on the spot, as if in mutual admi thereafter ran its ground players around the end where O'Bradovich wasn't.

Anyone who would seriously criticize the Lions of-fence is overdue for the rest cure. True, James Walden at quarterback is not a John Unitas. But he completed enough passes (8 out of 13) to make it interesting and he does not lack for courage.

Walden mixed up his plays reasonably well. If he was not always successful it should be remembered that Edmonton has the best defence in the league. You fool them occasionally but you rarely fool them twice.

Willie Helps Make Offense Click

If Parker is the heart of the Eskimos, so must Willie Fleming be the pulse of the Lions. Stories dealing with his wraith-like performances, his breathtaking runs, his great desire, do not exaggerate.

He rolled 82 yards for the touchdown that put Lions He rolled $2 yards for the folichdown that put Lions ahead in the first quarter. You could have sworn as he took the kickoff he was going to be waylaid early and convincingly. He seemed to disappear into a horde of tacklers and then explode from their midst. He was pushed from behind so hard once he nearly went that on his face. Some how he managed to regain his balance and they never saw suchlars but his tallance. anything but his tailpipe.

To ease some of Willie's burdens, the Lions sent a sort of pee wee type, Clyde Thomas, five feet, nine inches, 170 pounds, spinning around the ends. He carried the ball often (nine times) and well. He cannot but aid the B.C. cause if he is durable enough to withstand the tons of beef which are sure to land on him.

Edmonton won Tuesday on the Empire Stadium carpet because the Lions need—and this is no alibi—a little time to work together. Parker and the Esks are good, very good. But they are not invincible. Some night, it says here, the Lions are going to prove it.

... HERE AND THERE . . . With NORMAN CRIBBENS

The American invasion of Victoria reached its peak over the weekend—and the Empress Hotel lobby began to resemble a railroad station, with baggage stretching all the way from the front desk to the main entrance.

One of the invaders was a burly Texan who strolled over to Victoria and Island Tourist Bureau and tipped his outsize hat to receptionist Sue Wheatley.

"Long time since I came to this little oi' town," he grinned. "Last time I was here yo' all was busy a coronating."

The Texan was all for seeing something Indian, and Sue directed him to Craigflower Manor, where more than 200 visitors watched Chief Hummingbird, and members of the Songhees band performing the Snake Dance and other Young and old were delighted by the colorful native costumes and the hair raising war cries of the dancers, jumping to the beat of the tom-toms.

Over on Piers Island, near Swartz Bay, we witnessed another kind of native celebration when a small party of Hungarians performed the "Happy Tree" ceremony for Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Destrube of 5237 Santa Clara.

They are building a summer home on the island and Jozef Fekete, an immigrant from Hungary, constructed the solid brick fir place.

In Hungary'st is customary to celebrate once the fire-place is installed; so Mr. Fekete and his family tied a decorated Christmas tree to the chimney and called for toasts to the happy tree and the "happy home to be."

Firemen Park School Site Plan Dropped

Greater Victoria Schooloard has abandoned a pr posal to buy Firemen's Park from Oak Bay to meet swelling school enrolment with a new four-room unit next year

In private talks with Oak Bay Council Monday night, school board chairman W. C. Gelling said an alternative plan is under consideration, ne which would not require park or recreational use.

Council was opposed to let-ting Firemen's Park go be cause it is the only remaining centrally-located land suitable for development as a community recreation centre,

Mr. Gelling said today he could not disclose the proposed site yet because of in-

Reeve George Murdoch said it is not likely to be in Oak Bay because of the expense of buying developed land and the lack of undeveloped land.

Mr. Gelling said enrolment increases elsewhere in Oak Bay may mean a six-room addition to Monterey School and five rooms at Uplands Elemen-

Do you have a midnight snacker in your house? We do, and inevitably, after creeping downstairs for a piece of cake, he neglects to cover the tin properly with foil. By morning, the cake can well be used for a curling stone.

Much better if we had one of the new aluminum baking tins that come complete with clear plastic slide-on lid. Food can be protected and kept moist and fresh, with no air leaks. Cakes can be taken to picnics, too, with no fear of squashing. Or they can be stored in the freezer:

Water Safety Saanich Concern

Plans for more warning signs and life-saving equipment were aired in council Monday night and a resident has proposed a waterborn "citizens' police force" for Elk and Beaver Lakes.

The proposals followed a verdict of death by drowning handed down by deputy coro

More signs

Mr. Alder said severe head injuries suffered when the man fell out of his boat and was run over by it certainly would have been fatal.

Council approved a proposal by police chief W. A. DIME METERS UP REVENUE 25 PER CENT

Resistance to the new dime rate in the one-hour parking meter zone down town has shown up in the first collection figures.

City hall books today showed a total of $3,6/3 was collected in the first five days of this month, compared with a $2,958 take from the meters a year ago. That represents an approxi mately 25 per cent increase in total revenue since the rate was doubled in the one-

A full 100 per cent increase was not expected because the doubled rate does not apply on all meters. City hall sources also pointed out that an accurate comparison will not be pos sible until the end of the month when the total revenue is averaged out over each of the approximately 1,800 meters on the streets.

Last month the daily average per meter hit close to SPRINGFIELD, Ohio—A Springfield woman called police Monday asking that the owner of a lot in her neighborhood be forced to cut the weeds.

She gave police the name of a lawyer she said was responsible for the property's management.

Police told the lawyer the weeds must be cut. But he said he no longer was responsible for the property—the lot recently had been sold.

On checking, police found the new owner was the woman complaining about the weeds. She told police she had been dickering to buy the lot but was not aware the deal had come through deal had gone through. She was given five days to have the weeds cut FRAMINGHAM, Mass.—It was a noisy and unpleasant evening for actor ligite Wolfington.

One of the stars in the show "Song of Norway," Wolfington dashed onstage Monday night at Framingham's Carossel Theatre for a curtain call, skidded on some stage snow and landed among the cymbals in the orchestra pit.

Wolfington was admitted to hospital with a possible fracture of the now.

FRANKLIN SQUARE, N.Y. Bill Hunting's car has a noisy muffler, and when he comes to call just about everybody knows it.

That's a handy thing for a handyman—which Bill is. But it's mighty embariassing for a burglar—which police are Bill also is.

say Bill also is.

One of four victims whose homes were burglarized here listened to the sound of the burglar's car pulling away, picked up the phone calmly and told police.

"Bill the handyman was here and robbed us."

Police picked Bill up and charged him with burglary.

NEW YORK New York police aren't very good at roping swans.

They got a rare chance to try Monday as a big one took a stroll down the middle of busy Sixth Avenue in

The bird was spotted at 57th Street by two radio car patrolmen. They first tried lassoing it from the car.

Failing, one cop got out and tried the roping trick several more times—and got only laughter from the sidewalks for his pains. The swan merely backed away.

Finally the cops began shooing the bird on foot to-ward Central Park two blocks to the north. There the swan hopped into a duck pond and went sailing serenely

VANCOUVER (CP) — A lockout idling 100 glass workers started today at 12 Greater Vaticouver glass firms. Rirwin G. Parsons, spokesman for the Flat-Glass Jobbers' Association, said the lockout was called because the Glaziers' and Glass Workers' Union (CLC) was asking employees for money to support about 146 workers who are on strike at four other glass firms in the area. He said the companies would in effect be supporting the union against the four strike-bound firms.
